Chapter Meeting and Speaker on SB 707 – Textile Recovery

Join us for our chapter meeting, lunch, and a presentation on SB 707, by Jene D'Ambrosio, D'Ambrosio Trading, Inc. on The Responsible Textile Recovery Act of 2024.

Textile waste is a large and challenging problem for a number of reasons. Textile waste, coming primarily from discarded apparel, has increased by 400% globally in the last 20 years. The production of new apparel requires intense resource use from raw materials including fossil fuels, water, land, and chemicals. Fast fashion, or inexpensive clothing driven by rapidly changing trends produced in large volumes, is a major contributor to the textile waste problem. In essence, SB 707 requires apparel and textile "producers" placing covered products on the California market to form a producer responsibility organization (PRO) to enhance the recycling and reuse of textiles, thus introducing the nation's first EPR framework in the industry. The EPR will legally hold producers financially responsible for end-of-life management of the products they place in a certain market.
